WILD BEASTS IN INDIA.

Startling P gares Showing the Losses of Triman life to 1883. It is startling to read in official returns that mere than twenty-two thou-

In many parts of India, despite the ntmost efforts of the Government, wild beasts render life hard indeed to the people, for one pair of full-grown tigers, with cubs, will destroy from four to six bullocks each week. Often, in pure wantonness, a tiger will kid two or three eattic when he wants only a small part of one. A family of tigers will kill in a week more animals than a family of farmers can eat in a year.

The panther and the leopard are also tarrible cattle-eaters, and the leopard has a particular hab't of enrrying off the dogs which are axpected to guard the herd from his attacks. The Indian welf is noted for his andae ty in seizing children. In India animals have a character of ferocity which makes human lile in some districts well-nigh in-supportable. — Youth's Companion.

PARIS.

Nothing (in the Way of | Exceptional Healthy Surroundings to Offer-

In health, Paris is on a level with a hundred other places. It has nothing of its own to offer. Its climate presents a fair average of the qualitles and faults of the central Continental weather; the a risirler and more vivifying than that of England; extremes of heat and cold are semetimes felt, but they are unfrequent; strong winds are rare, and though fogs have become some-what neelimnized of late years, the air is on the whole fairly bright and pleasant. But the same abwesphere may be found almost everywhere niong the same parallel of latitude. The sanltary couditions are good; the sour-erage is excellent; the water is abundant and pure, and the pre-contions against infection in all its forms are minute and well applied. The material conditions of life are, however, growing so much nitke in all large towns that we are living ever, where under more and more aimilar influences, and it may be said without much inexactness that, so far rs Europo is concerned, what used to be entired especially a heatthy or un-healthy place, is becoming difficult to that, Epidemics come and go in l'aris as they do in other centers of l'aris as they do in other centers of population, but they are seldon traceable to local causes, and usingly assume a general character. But all these qualities are merely negative; they imply the absonce of objections, not the presence of recommendat ons; l'aris pussesses no pestive advantages in climate ar heaith, and lyngtisti people will not be tempted to live in the reases of that sert.—

Apologizing under such discouraging creatistances is not pleasant. We could do nothing consequently, but beat a retreat, which we did with ear counterances suffused with the heal and our bosous billed with mortification. The possessor of the supposed public parior watched us, still with a storn expression, until we were cut of the room. Then the door was closed. We had forgotten for the time being all about the beauty and magnificance of the great Cologue cathedrai.

MR. LINCOLN.

An Incident Illustrative of His Kindness of Heart. "Speaking of Mr. Lincoln's kindness of heart," said an old Massachusetts man recently to a representative of the Chicago Inter Ocean, "I will never forget the only time that I exchanged words with him. This was in the summer of 1864, and our regiment was stationed temporarily near Washington. One day I strolled into the tho river, and threw myself that on my back under the trees. The canvass for the Democratic Bowling Green district has reached a white heat. The contending candidates are Reeves of Todd, and Rodes, of Warren. The latter has started a campaign paper for circulation in Logan county to off-set the influence of the Herald-Enterprise, which is red-hot for Reeves. The respective organs of the two candidates are calling each other "liars," "poltroeus" and all sorts of hard names. The county conventions to settle the race will be held to-morrow and the contest will be so clesc that it is impossible to fereteli the result.

Measurem acts of Temperature at Various Police Moncolli the Partics Surface. It is supposed that it is very hot in the middle of the earth; and the Germans; like a philosophical peeple, are now going to some expense in order to find eut how het it is. Not that we are withent seme of these elever guesses and large numbers are daily succumb- called scientific indections. The French have their ewn views on the subject, so have we. But ia these cases the information obtained, such as it is, has been arrived at in the pursuit of something else. It is more noble to go to the cost of ebtaining knowledge for its own account; and it strikes us as almost unfair to the Ger-mans that the heat indicated by their borng should be less than that oals culated on any other data. It is generally held that at a depth of they feet an underground zeno is reached in which the temperature is the same all over the world and at all seasees of tho year. And this temperature is said to be 50 (or, to be more accurate, 50.5) degrees of the thermometer of Fahrenheit, 180 of which degrees measurements. are the difference between the tempernture of boiling and of freezing water under ordinary conditions.,

A well snnk to the depth of 1,802 feet at Grenello, a subuch of Paris, took seven years and two months of difficult labor to complete; and, when the waterbearing stratum was reached, the water feet above the surface. This water was ture of 81.8 degrees Fahrenheit, show thre of 81.8 degrees Fabruniet, show-ing an increase of temperature at the rate of one degree of Fabruniet' for every lifty feet below the neutral zone above mentioned. At Kissengon, in Bavaria, a brine well has been bored to a depth of 2,000 feet. But the water. has only a temperature of sixty-six degrees. In Algeria the temperature of seventy-nine degrees Fahrenhoit is shown by water springing from borings of net more than 280 feet. But this was said to be a miracle. The artesian walls in Chicago are 700 feet them and wells in Chicago are 700 feet deep, and bave a temperature of only lifty-seven degrees Fahrenheit.

Measurements of temperature not absolutely leave the comperature of absolutely leave the comperature of t elately dependent on the flew of water are more consistent in their results than the above. In the Cornish mines the temperature increases ene degree fer every sixty feet. In the Dukenfield lead mine the increase is one for every sixty-three feet. At Resebridge, near Wigan, a temperature of 92 degrees Fahrenheit is found at a depth of 2,370 feet. At La Monille boros, near Crenzot, at a depth of 3.017 feet, the temper ature recorded is 110.2 degrees Fahrenheit. The new German boring is made nem Schladenach; the depth is renened 3,566 feet, and the temperature note is 120 degrees Fahrenheit. The respect ve increase of temperature in the last three eases is a degree in 56, in 53.5 and in 65 feet; so that either the earth is much ecolor near Schladebach than in England and in France, or fer some other reason the result of the German boring indicates a slower rate of in erease of temperature than either of the abave cases eited.

At the Corush rate of increase, which s pro.tv nearly a mean of the various stim ites, the temperature at which wa ter beds will be prevalent at a dopth of tifty-four mile, which is less than one seventieth part of the distance to the center of the earth, the temperature of the combustion of ordinary coal must prevail it the law of the lucrease of tem-perature with depth remains constant. To go any further, to Indicate in de-gress of the thermometer the theoretic hent at the center or any other point, is nothing but scientific trilling. Nor is any great practical good likely to result roin experiments to show whether, in any given spot, temperature liacreases with every lifty-three feet or with every sixty-live feet that we burrow in imag-

There is, however, a certain object with depth. In 1871 n report was pre-The commission United Kingdom." ers took the eminently practical view that 'looking to pessible expedients which the future may elic't for reducing the temperature, they considered that it might be fairly assumed that a doubt of at least 4.0) feet might be reached." At this doubt the temperature probably exceeds 122 degrees Fuhrenheit. As to its "reduction," It is to be remembered that the heart whatevar it he is not that of the heat, whatever it be, is not that of the air alone, but that of the earth en and within which the miaer has to stand or to lie; and that, as to "rethe east of the state of the east of the east of the globe.

At the temperature of the blood, which is 98 degrees Fahrenheit, continuous exertion is impossible to the European. This tomperature is reached unagently at a dupth of shout 9 500 apparently at a depth of about 2.690 feet; which is 314 feet lower than the deepest colliery in England. But long before the impossible is attained the costly and the difficult commence. A temperature of 80 degrees Fabrenhuit is probable at a depth of 1.800 feet. Far within this limit, in the Monkwermonth minos, at a depth of 1.640 feet, shorter hours are required for the miner, and the hours are required for the miner, and the cost increases in proportion. Those considerations reduce the rationally probable contents of our coal-measures (those known to exist in the United Kingdom) from the 90,000,000,000 of tous estimated by the commissioners to 39,000,000,000 of tous extra liable. with our present means; and we are bringing it to the surface at the annually in-creasing rate of 160,000 000 of tons per year. The supply will last our time, no doubt; but centuries are but small periods in the life of n people. And it is easy to see that, on such information as we have, it is not for continues in the planal that our coal-supply will hold out, if we continue its ever-increasing extraction.—St. James' Guzette.

PRICES IN SAN FRANCISCO. How the Onco Rospisal Nickel Has Chesque ened Some Things.

Among the recent contributions to the hodge-podge of attractions on the dime-museum side of Market street are several little "ho'es-In-tho-wn!l." where any of the articles displayed may be purchased for five cents. The array and variety of the goods are remarkable when the price is considered. On the walls and shelves are wnikinglieve he dld se intend is true, but sticks, tinware, collurs, necktles, sonp, pipes nucl, to quote the usual tag of na auctioneer's entalogue; "other things too numerous, to mention," all at the lew price of half a dime. The novelty of the venture and the fact that the once despised niekel lind grown to be n purchasing factor of some consequence led a Chronic c reporter to put together The meeting will continue for a week was therefore absent. Mr. Moss was the results of certain observations on the gradual tendency of small prices to become smaller. The change has been especially noticeable during the past ive years, and walsa the grenter the past of expenditure have not been affected, and while Lousekeeping round as just as expensive as ever, the Little chings and "blocks," "bulldings," "orders," etc. of the article for the purpose. This the inverses have been ent down serbeen cailed the "despired nick de" and it is a fact, as everyone knows, that until wl hin n comparat vety recent date San Franciscans, loosed with suprema and most mireasonable contempt on anything that was not gold or silves. The street-car company s were mainly instrumental in breaking down this project on Silver half dimes were getting very searce, owing in the discontinuance of their boinage, and here importations of the nickel were unde were murrally found for it, and while it wou'd be impossible to give the gene-als of these new uses, it will be just no interesting to, point them out. With the reduction of luterand revenue on the reduction of luteranl revenue on tobacco, amokers were not slow in discovering what could be done with the nickel. Five-cent clares came strongly luto fushion, eigerettes went down to five cents a pack, and chewing-tobacco followed in unanvory suit. Before the clange the "hit" eight was the cheapest, and whee a num wanted to do the swell think to treating he put the adology. est, and whee a turn whited to do the swell thing le trent ng he put up a dollar for the two. Some Italians started a new order of things in Puper ulicy (Lieder dorft street), with a fixed charge of five cents, and though there was a vigorous attempt made to crush out the dangerous cheapness, purrouage went all that way, and now the 10 cent boot-black stands can be counted on the lingers of an band. Closely allied to the boot-blacks are the barb rs, and though the tive cent regime has not you reached tive-ceat regime has not you renched the "ton-sorod artis"s," n uniterial reduction of charges obtains among them. Metal Poison.

I am a coppersuntit by trade, and during a series of years my arms (being bare when at work) have absorbeil a wonderful amount of metal poison. Having a screfulous tendency from my youth, the small particles of copper and brass would get into the sores, and by this process the poison was conveyed into my blood till my whole system became infected. I was treated with the old remedies of mur-cury and ledide petassium. Salivation followed, my teeth are all loese in my head, my illgestive organs deranged, and I have been helpies in bed for over a year with mercurial rheumatism. My joints were all swollen, and I lost the use ef my arms and legs, and became helpless as an infant. My sufferings became so intense that it was impossible for me te rest. The doctors advised me to go to the elty hospital for treatment. This I could not bear. A friend, who has proved a friend indeed, nrged me to try Swift's Specific, believing it would cure me. Others discouraged me, but I secured a tew bottles, and have now taken two dozen bottles. The first effect of the medicine was to bring the peison to the aurlace, and I broke out all over in running sores. They soon disappeared, and my skli cicared off. My knees, which had become twice their natural size, have resumed their usual size, and are supple as of yore. My arms and hands are all right again, and can use them without pain. The entire disease having a part of the body save two nicers on my wrists, which are healing rapidly. I am weak from long confinement, but I have the use of any part of the same light of the large transfer of the large transfer of the large transfer of the large of my limbs.
